AWARD-WINNING PUBLICATIONS

1st Place, Profile Feature Writing , Division F, S.C. Press Association, for "Beekeeping takes a family"	2025
"A tightly written narrative about the art of bee-keeping that draws parallels to policing had me hooked on every word." – 2025 Judges' Comments

- 1st Place, Photo Series, Division F, S.C. Press Association, for "Beekeeping takes a family" 2025
- "What an absolutely marvelous series of photos. They practically provide one with an education in the apiary art by themselves. Spot on!" – 2025 Judges' Comments
- 1st Place, Reporting-In-Depth, Divisions B&C Combined, S.C. Press Association, for series on Mayesville Government 2024
- "It sounds like there's a lot happening in Mayesville, and this reporter took a deep dive to uncover the details, presenting both sides of the story in an unbiased way." – 2024 Judges' Comments
- 1st Place, Government Beat Reporting, Division C, S.C. Press Association, for Sumter County Government Reporting 2024
- "Too often, government beat reporting focuses on the institutions rather than the people. This reporter chose to focus each story's lede on a person, which helped me as a reader care about the issue more. Finding those real people to tell their stories makes the coverage more relevant because people can say, 'Hey, that's my neighbor.'" – 2024 Judges' Comments
- 1st Place, Lifestyle Feature Writing, Division C, S.C. Press Association, for "Sumter coin collectors in it for the art, history and friendship" 2024
- "I really enjoyed this piece. It was nice to learn a little bit while enjoying the ease of the story." – 2024 Judges' Comments
- 1st Place, Profile Feature Writing, Division F, S.C. Press Association, for "'From Wall Street to bagels.' Lexington baker says the overnight shift has served him well" 2024
- "Good writing in this story. The writer used description to help the reader feel like they were there. Well done!" – 2024 Judges' Comments
- 1st Place, Enterprise Reporting, Division E, S.C. Press Association, for "'It's not a luxury': As S.C. looks to remove tax on period products, other challenges linger" 2023
- "Good job of getting people to talk about and explain what can be an uncomfortable topic and giving good background of a movement underway." – 2023 Judges' Comments
- 1st Place, Reporting-In-Depth, Division E, S.C. Press Association, for "'Sprayed and betrayed.' Agent Orange leaves lingering impacts on Myrtle Beach veterans, their families" 2023
- "This story needed to be told. An impactful story on a local and national crisis. Well-written and well-reported. Best of a category filled with deserving entries." – 2023 Judges' Comments
- 1st Place, News Feature Writing, Division C, S.C. Press Association, for "Sumter VFW Post 3034 may be haunted. Ghost hunters came to verify" 2023
- "Just a perfect example of what makes an ideal feature in a local newspaper. The writing is excellent and thus able to draw the reader in immediately with a little suspense before taking them on a brief journey that ends just as well as it began. Great work." – 2023 Judges' Comments
- 1st Place, Obituary Writing, Division C, S.C. Press Association, for "USC Sumter professor and poet remembered as brilliant, fiery by family and friends" 2023

- “This obit opens as poetically as the woman it describes. Excellent quotes. Good work weaving the information together in such a way that it reflects her personality. This makes me wish I had met her.” – 2023 Judges’ Comments

The Herald Award for “‘Sounds about white.’ Winthrop community not surprised by university’s seemingly failed commitment to diversity as shown in presidential finalists” 2022
